REYNOLDA CAMPUS

Wake Forest University honors Michael J. Berry, Ph.D., for his contributions across his 38 years as a member of the Health and Exercise Science Department and dedicated service to Wake Forest University; for being a leader in the field of respiratory physiology and exercise rehabilitation and for teaching advanced classes in human physiology, exercise physiology and applied statistics; for his dedicated service to the institution, particularly for serving as department chair and director of graduate studies in Health and Exercise Science; and for being a loyal colleague whose dedication to teaching and research exemplifies the teacher-scholar model.

Wake Forest University honors Deborah L. Best, Ph.D., for her contributions spanning over 50 years in the Psychology Department and at Wake Forest University; for her role as a beloved teacher and mentor of graduate and undergraduate students; for her belief in and support for students and colleagues that allowed them to flourish; for her extensive research on attitudes about gender, age and disability, cultural psychology, cognitive functioning, and health over the lifespan; for her faithful dedication to and leadership in the Psychology Department, the College, the field of developmental psychology and the Winston-Salem community; and for being an example and inspiration to all as a teacher-scholar.

Wake Forest University honors C. Kevin Bowen, Ph.D., for his generous contributions across 29 years as a member of the Music Department, where he inspired students and colleagues with his development and leadership of the Wind Ensemble, Pep Band, Jazz Ensemble, trumpet studio, chamber brass ensembles, and Marching Band (aka "The Spirit of the Old Gold & Black"); and for his service to Wake Forest University as a dedicated athletic band director who supported and enlivened countless sports events at home and on the road.

Wake Forest University honors Anne Boyle, Ph.D., for her contributions across 36 years in the Department of English; for her numerous articles on writing, as well as of the monograph, "Strange and Lurid Bloom: A Study of the Fiction of Caroline Gordon"; for being instrumental in leading both the Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies and the Writing Programs at Wake Forest; for her service as Associate Dean for Student-Faculty Academic Initiatives; and as the recipient of the College's two highest teaching awards — the Reid-Doyle Prize for Excellence in Teaching and the Jon Reinhardt Award for Distinguished Teaching — and the Donald O. Schoonmaker Faculty Award for Community Service.

Wake Forest University honors Jennifer Burg, Ph.D., for her contributions across her 29 years as a member of the faculty of the Department of Computer Science and Wake Forest University; for her leadership in the field of digital media, including authoring textbooks, developing curricula and designing artistic performances; for her dedicated service as the first chair of the Department of Computer Science; and for being a loyal colleague whose dedication to and integration of teaching and research exemplifies the teacher-scholar model.

Wake Forest University honors Allin F. Cottrell, Ph.D., for his contributions across his 34 years as a member of the Economics Department and dedicated service to Wake Forest University; for being a leader in the fields of macroeconomics, econometrics and the history of economic thought and for teaching introductory and advanced classes in his discipline; for his dedicated service to the institution, particularly in his contributions to the development and continuation of the mathematical economics program; and for being a loyal colleague whose dedication to teaching and research exemplifies the teacher-scholar model.

Wake Forest University honors David Finn, MFA, for his contributions across his 28 years as a member of the Art Department and dedicated service to Wake Forest University; for being a leader in the field of public art and teaching a range of courses in sculpture; for teaching generations of students how to ally the intellectual and the manual, how to tolerate ambiguity and how to communicate ideas and emotions; for his dedicated service to the institution; for his advocacy for the visual arts; and for being a loyal colleague whose dedication to teaching and research exemplifies the teacher-scholar model.

Wake Forest University honors James L. Ford, Ph.D., for his contributions over 25 years as a member of the Department for the Study of Religions and his dedicated service to Wake Forest University; for being an esteemed scholar in the field of Japanese Buddhism and for teaching introductory and sought-after advanced classes in his discipline; for being committed to advancing the understanding of religion and religious pluralism; for working tirelessly for his students and colleagues, especially in leading his department; for helping to establish the Office of Academic Advising and encouraging curricular reform; and for exemplifying the teacher-scholar ideal.

Wake Forest University honors Alireza Lari, Ph.D., CMQ, CQA, for over a decade of enthusiastic teaching and service to the School of Business, continually dedicating himself to both undergraduate and graduate student learning in quantitative methods and operations management; for sharing his knowledge and expertise with his students and colleagues; for his active participation in the profession through years of service to the National Science Foundation, Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges, Institute for Operations Research and the Management Sciences, Decision Sciences Institute, American Society for Quality Advances, Board of Examiners for Baldrige Award, Project Management Institute and American Institute of Higher Education; and for his unwavering positive attitude.

Wake Forest University honors Wayne L. Silver, Ph.D., for his contributions across his 38 years as a member of the Biology Department and dedicated service to Wake Forest University; for being a leader in the field of neuroscience, teaching introductory and advanced classes in his disciplines; for his dedicated service to the institution, particularly in the development of graduate programs; for service to his department and the College; and for being a loyal colleague whose dedication to teaching and research exemplifies the teacher-scholar model.

Wake Forest University honors Cynthia Evans Tessien for over a decade of serving her alma mater by dedicating herself to undergraduate student learning and growth in managerial accounting; for receiving the undergraduate Senior Class Teaching Award more times than any other School of Business faculty member since 1999-2000; for tireless, immersive mentoring and coaching, making an impactful and long-term difference in the lives of her students; for bringing her 18 years of senior level, company-leading professional experience to the classroom; for serving as an advisor to student organizations; and for her compassion for her family and local community.

Wake Forest University honors Stan Thomas, Ph.D., for his contributions across his 39 years as a member of the faculty of the Department of Computer Science and Wake Forest University; for his development of the initial curricula for computer science at Wake Forest; for his leadership in accreditation of computing programs; for his dedicated service as chair of the Department of Computer Science; and for being a loyal colleague whose dedication to teaching and research exemplifies the teacher-scholar model.

Wake Forest University honors Helga A. Welsh, Ph.D., for her contributions across her 30 years as a member of the Politics and International Affairs Department and dedicated service to Wake Forest University; for her intellectual leadership in the field of European politics and politics in post-communist states; for her award-winning teaching, sought out and beloved by generations of students; for her dedicated service to the institution and leadership on countless departmental and University committees; and for being a loyal colleague whose dedication to teaching and research exemplifies the teacher-scholar model.

Wake Forest University honors Jack E. Wilkerson Jr., Ph.D., for 34 years of dedicated, award-winning teaching of undergraduate and graduate accounting students both on campus and abroad; for 14 years as a senior leader, including Dean of the Wayne Calloway School of Business and Accountancy and Senior Associate Dean for Accountancy Programs; for fostering long-term relationships with the top accounting firms; for helping to lead the Master of Science in Accounting Program to have the highest CPA pass rate more often than any other school for the past 20 years; for many scholarly contributions and service to the academy, the Business School and the University; and for his unwavering friendship to his colleagues.

MEDICAL CAMPUS

2023 HONORARY DEGREES

In addition to the honorary degrees awarded during today's commencement exercises, Wake Forest University conferred two honorary degrees in separate ceremonies.

David Acosta, Doctor of Science
Larry Culp, Doctor of Business Administration

THE WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY MACE

The Wake Forest University mace, a handsome staff decorated with scenes and symbols of the University, was first used at the inauguration of President James Ralph Scales in April 1968. It is a traditional symbol of authority and is carried at the head of the academic processions at Commencement and convocations. The mace is shaped from a single sheet of silver covered with gold. It has an ebony handle. Etchings of Wait Chapel, Reynolda Hall, an arch at an entrance to the campus and the cupola on the Z. Smith Reynolds Library are on the largest, or middle, section. Pictures of the Old Campus are on the top section. On the bottom are panoramas of the medical school, Carswell Hall and the skyline of Winston-Salem. Each section is separated by raised drawings of magnolias. A double-cast seal of the University is at the top of the mace. The mace was given by the late Thomas H. Davis Sr. (LLD '84) of Winston-Salem in honor of his father, Egbert Lawrence Davis Sr. (LLB 1904).

THE PRESIDENTIAL COLLAR OF STATE

The presidential collar of state, often referred to as the presidential chain of office, is part of the academic regalia worn by the president at Commencement and convocations. It is a gold-plated necklace of medallions linked by onyx-centered magnolia blossoms. On each medallion is the name of a former Wake Forest president and the years of his tenure. The collar was a gift to the University in 1991 from Weston P. Hatfield ('41), a life trustee and former chair of the board of trustees.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia apparently originated at Oxford and Cambridge more than 600 years ago. The apparel is little changed in design, colors, and symbolism. In no other sector are the ancient usages of the university so unchanging. In 1895 an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of academic caps, gowns, and hoods in the United States. Over the years there have been only minor revisions to the code, which is followed by 95 percent of the colleges and universities in America, including Wake Forest.

Gowns, which according to the tradition, are all black (Harvard, Princeton, and Yale are exceptions), are of three kinds. The bachelor's gown is a comparatively simple kind that falls in straight lines from an elaborate yoke. The master's gown is similar to the bachelor's except for its peculiar arrangement of the long sleeves with square ends that hang below the elbow. The doctor's gown is an elaborate, full-cut, flowing costume distinguished by velvet panels down the front and around the neck and by three bars of velvet on the bell-shaped sleeves.

The academic hood was literally a garment to protect the wearer from foul weather. It is the identifying symbol of the degree. The length indicates which degree it represents: three feet for the bachelor's, three and a half for the master's, and four for the doctoral. The lining indicates the college or university which awarded the degree. Those who receive degrees from Wake Forest wear hoods lined in old gold and black. The color of the trimming identifies the major field of learning: white for arts and letters, copper for journalism, purple for law, green for medicine, drab for business, pink for music, silver-gray for speech, dark blue for philosophy, light blue for education, sage green for physical education, golden yellow for science, cream for social science, and scarlet for theology.

The Wake Forest University trustees wear black robes with old gold and black on the front panels and the bars on the sleeves. The shield from the University seal is embroidered on the front panels.

Some universities have duplicated colors, but generally a glance at the lining, which is worn exposed, will identify the awarding institution. Some of the university colors worn today are:
