Traveling Domestically—Quick Guide

Items to Consider Before Traveling Domestically

- Plan carefully before you travel:
  - Obtain any prior approvals
  - Check the policies to see if anything has changed
  - To ensure the most economical travel, book the travel as far in advance as you can—at least 2 weeks out, if possible
  - Know your funding sources and check your budget
  - If you use a personal credit card versus the University Procurement Card, reimbursements will not be processed until after the trip and all expenses can be accounted for

- Ensure all expenses are necessary, proper and reasonable. The University asks that we use the most economical means of travel

- Upgrades for class and preferred seating are generally not allowable expenses

- Remember to keep all detail and summary receipts for items purchased or services used while traveling

- Refer to the Travel Receipts Quick Guide for more information on required documentation

- The University does not allow a per diem for domestic travel

- Review the Travel Procedure, Schedule E, for non-reimbursable items

Items to Consider After You Return from a Domestic Trip

- Any advance money not used should be repaid by creating a cash sale and taking the funds to the Cashier’s window in Reynolda Hall

- Any documentation not submitted within 60 days from date the expense was incurred or 30 days from return of trip, whichever is later may be considered compensation

- The documentation requirements defined in University policies and procedures should be followed
  - There are several useful quick guides relating to documentation and receipt requirements

- Submit complete documentation using Create Expense Report task in Workday
