Reflection:
- What’s surprising about your network?
- Do your goals match any of the people in your existing network?
- In what areas would you benefit from having more connections?

Network Mapping Activity:
We’re going to walk through an exercise to map out your current network and identify areas for potential mentorship or areas of gaps to build your network.
- Write your name in the center circle.
- Moving outward, fill in spaces in which you find yourself, groups that make up those spaces, people within those groups, and skills those people possess that you would like to cultivate in yourself. Please add any layers as you need.
