Come, Come, Whoever You Are

1.
Come, come, who - ev - er you are:
wan - der-er, wor - ship-er, lov - er of leav - ing;
ours is no car - a - van of des - pair.

2.
Come, yet a - gain, come.

3.
Come, yet a - gain, come.

4.
Come, yet a - gain, come.

Words based on a poem attributed to Rumi.
Music: Anon.

Spirit of Life

The sheet music consists of six staves of music in common time (indicated by a '4') and treble clef. The lyrics are integrated with the musical notes. The first staff has a dotted half note followed by four eighth notes, with the lyrics "Spir - it of Life, come un - to me." The second staff has a dotted half note followed by a quarter note, a eighth note, a quarter note, and another eighth note, with the lyrics "Sing in my heart all the stir-rings of com-pas - sion." The third staff has a dotted half note followed by a quarter note, a eighth note, a quarter note, and another eighth note, with the lyrics "Blow in the wind, rise in the sea,". The fourth staff has a dotted half note followed by a quarter note, a eighth note, a quarter note, and another eighth note, with the lyrics "move in the hand, giv-ing life the shape of jus - tice." The fifth staff has a dotted half note followed by a quarter note, a eighth note, a quarter note, and another eighth note, with the lyrics "Roots hold me close; wings set me free;" The sixth staff has a dotted half note followed by a quarter note, a eighth note, a quarter note, and another eighth note, with the lyrics "Spir - it of Life, come to me, come to me."

About the Worship Leader

Shakeisha Gray is a third-year student and belongs to a Unitarian Universalist (UU) congregation in Salisbury, NC that she and her husband helped found. She generally identifies as a Humanist and oft times Atheist, but prefers not to be placed into a strict box of non-conformity. Her key principle and moral code for living comes from the UU first principal, "Seeing the worth and dignity in every living thing."
