COUNSELING 750
THE VIENNA THEORISTS – FREUD, ADLER, MORENO, AND FRANKL
Summer 2017

Flow House – Vienna
Gustav Tschermakgasse 20
Wein Wein 1190 AT

Instructor: Samuel T. Gladding, Ph.D.

Course Description
This course focuses on four of the leading theorists who founded modern counseling. The theories of the practitioners, Sigmund Freud, Alfred Adler, Jacob Moreno, and Viktor Frankl are examined in the context of the city in which they initially formulated their clinical ideas. Students will visit historical sites and institutes in Vienna, receive instruction from local experts, and study original writings of each theorist.

Course Objectives
Through taking this course, students will become better acquainted with the lives of the theorists studied, their theories, and the influence of culture on the formulation of ideas. Specifically, the learners will be able to
- Identify the similarities and differences between the four theories,
- Discuss the cultural and historical influences that shaped the lives and ideas of the four theorists,
- Develop and expand their appreciation for a culture and society outside of the United States (i.e., Austria),
- Explain the current practice of the four theories in Europe as well as the United States.
- Solidify working relationships, and
- Examine the influence of culture and society on their lives and understand the impact of cultures and societies on the lives of clients.

Course Policies
There is no prerequisite for this course. Students are expected to attend and participate actively in all classes. The learning in this course will take place through required readings, class presentations and discussions, guest lecturers, visits to museums, a trip to Mauthausen, and visits to other historical and cultural settings.

Required Reading:

Recommended Reading:
Required Activity:

Journal for at least 15 minutes each afternoon or evening about the day’s experiences. Reflect on the presentations, new learning, and your overall experience in Vienna.

Four Teams of two to three persons each

Team presentations/modules:

Each team will be responsible for teaching about a theorist. The team will develop a learning module that outlines the key points of their presentation. The learning module should include information about the theorist, the theory, its application, both in the past and in current society. The team will conduct a class session that should last about two hours and prepare a 2-3 page handout for students and faculty. The team should give a pre-test about their subject and a multiple choice or short answer test on the material covered at the end of class. Creativity and in-depth delving into the theory are expected. Note: please include at least one creativity activity in your presentation. See the master schedule for dates of the presentations.

Assignments
Evaluation for this course will be based on your classroom presentation on one of the four Vienna theorists and two papers.

The first paper is a 6-7 page personal reflection paper based on the journal you kept while in Vienna. The paper should incorporate reflections on your experiences in Vienna including the presentations made by other students and outside experts as well as your reactions to the Austrian people and culture. Please include a section about how this experience has contributed to your own personal and professional growth.

The second paper is a 5-6 page research-based paper about the current application (such as with children, depression, trauma) of one of the four therapies covered in the course other than the one you presented on. The paper should include at least four scholarly resources (e.g., refereed journal articles) and be written in APA style.

Both papers and portfolios are due to Dr. Gladding by August 1st and may be sent in by email attachment to stg@wfu.edu.

Basis of Evaluation
- Class Presentation 40 %
- Personal Reflection Paper 20 %
- Research Paper 40 %
