Architects Expected To Endorse Site West Of Taylor For Arts

By NANCY ANDREWS
Assistant Editor

Architects from Caudill Rowlett Scott Architects, with offices in Chicago and Atlanta, have announced that they plan to recommend the site west of Taylor for new arts building. This site is being considered for the new site of the West Building.

The architects have been working on the design of the new building since last fall. They have met several times with the planning board and the site committee to discuss the possibilities of the site.

The site is located on the west side of the campus, near the site of the old West Building. The site is currently home to a number of older buildings, including the House of Representatives and the Senate.

The architects have stated that they believe the site is ideal for the new building, both in terms of its location and its potential to accommodate the needs of the arts department.

The new building will be designed to accommodate a range of activities, from large-scale performances to smaller, more intimate events.

The architects have also stated that they plan to work closely with the students and faculty to ensure that the building is designed to meet their needs.

The site committee has approved the architects' recommendation, and the planning board is expected to make a decision on the site soon.

Evaluation of Courses Due This Week

The results of the course evaluation conducted at the end of last term have been compiled and analyzed. These results will be used to improve the quality of instruction and to evaluate the possibilities for the future.

This year saw natural consensus in the data that would appear, in some cases, to be divided. The data suggest that students generally have a positive attitude towards their courses and instructors. However, there is room for improvement in some areas.

Dorm Halls Formulating Varied Lounge Policies

By GREGORIUT FREITZ

As it has been proposed most recently, the open lounge policies will vary from hall to hall in the women's dorms, each hall creating rules for visiting that will vary depending on the target audience, the mixture of girls on the hall, and different halls having different problems. The halls are requesting the lounge policies to be enforced by the Judicial Board in the event that any violation occurs.

New Pit Policy Criticized

A change in the S.R.A. State food service policy has irked many students and faculty alike. While the change is aimed at lowering the price for an entire meal, many students feel that it has raised the cost for individual items. Professors, on the other hand, have mixed views on the change.

McCall said he believes the change will make the cafeteria more appealing to a wider range of students. He said that the new policy will allow students to choose the items they want to eat, rather than being forced to eat what is available. However, he also understands the need for more variety in the cafeteria.

The change will be effective immediately, and McCall said he is confident that it will be well-received by the majority of students.

Paul, an art history major, said that he was initially disappointed with the change. "I thought it was a bad idea," he said. "But now I see that it makes sense." He added that he is looking forward to trying the new menu.

Roy, a social science major, said that he was happy with the change. "I've been wanting more variety in the cafeteria," he said. "This is a great step forward." He added that he is looking forward to trying the new menu.

The change is expected to have a significant impact on the cafeteria, and students are expected to be happy with the new menu. The change is expected to go into effect immediately, and students are encouraged to try the new menu and give their feedback.

Dew To Propose Streamlining For SG

By NANCY ANTHONIS
Associated Press

The proposal would create a 10-member student government with the power to deal with issues facing the student body more efficiently.

Under the Dew plan, the student government would have five members elected from each of the five residence halls in the University, plus an elected representative from the student life program. The student government would have the power to deal with issues facing the student body more efficiently.

The Dew plan, if adopted by the Student Senate, would be presented to the Student Senate, which would then vote on it. If approved by the Student Senate, the plan would be submitted to the Student Assembly for ratification.

A statement from Dew said the Dew plan was designed to provide a more efficient means of dealing with student issues. Dew said the Dew plan would be presented to the Student Senate, which would then vote on it. If approved by the Student Senate, the plan would be submitted to the Student Assembly for ratification.

New Constitution Almost Ready

Would Decrease Size of Legislature

By LISA HADFIELD
Stu-Daily Writer

A new student government constitution, one that will replace the current one, is expected to be ready within the next week. The new constitution will be presented to the Student Senate for approval.

The current constitution is 30 pages long and has been in use for the past two years. The new constitution is expected to be much shorter, with a page count of around 10 pages.

The new constitution will be presented to the Student Senate for approval. If approved, the new constitution will be presented to the Student Assembly for ratification.

Revolution Diffused, Defused But Music . . .

BY JOHN BROWNING AND BRAD SMITH

REVIEWS

Summer budget will not satisfy the demands for more than four friends, or just allow the desire to be entertained. For they have discovered that the more one realizes themselves the more one becomes aware of the limitations of one's own time. It is the duty of an intellectual to explore the boundaries of one's own mind and to find pleasure in the process.

More surprisingly songs may not only be enjoyed in this contemporary age, but in the presence of Abbeville. Performance like that Russell, John Pepper and Tommy Honda, John Peck, is as expected a treat for the ears and eyes. The warm melodic lines flow through the air, and one is aware of the total amount of music that exists in the room and can be heard.

It does not contain the same kind of music that is heard in the songs of Abbeville. They are more complex, more sophisticated, and more difficult to understand. There are no melodies that are heard in the songs of Abbeville.

But the clocks do not tick, but the reality of time does not exist in this age. This is not to say that there is no music in the air, but it is not the kind of music that is heard in the songs of Abbeville.

When Tom Popping, Tom High, and the rest walked into the house they were quite pleased to hear the music that was played at the house. They thought that they had found the perfect kind of music that was played in the house.

They asked about the song "My Song" with David Crosby and were told that they were playing it for the first time. It was the perfect kind of music that they had been looking for.

The album itself is a collection of the best of the "Blue River." With lyrics that are more introspective and arrangements that are more complex, it is a masterpiece of his work. He deserves it. The test of names like Lucienne Homenides de Govermnent.

But the testament of names like "Love Has Slid Down the Wrinkle," is not its versatility, its talent is never going to be lost. And when he is done, he will have accomplished something fierce for those who follow him.

Besides variety, the album is more successful of New York for a reason, and defused ..

The music is going to last, and has not bothered to die. From tomorrow through October 15, the album will be available.

The album is worth more than 5.125. To do with the Children's Music Hall, it is worth more than its value.

Of Todd Rundgren's "Sailor" does. But Jackson Browne, possibly seen as his best. But this is only a minor point. He is at times "in the mood." To the music has always been a concern. Davis, junior of Mr.

Talented Jayvee Makes Debut

Three clock P.M., Wednesday at Herman Stadium, Wake Forest's modest junior varsity football team will emerge at last into the limelight. The team, which includes several seniors, is expected to win the opening game of the season. It will be the first game between the two colleges, actually located in the same county, in the last 30 years.

Despite an abundance of talent, the team's most recent game, played last Saturday night, had troubles last week. Coach Leonard decided to provide a strong line in the defensive backfield with Todd Ware and Frank Shunk, along with Basler Brinick. Without a doubt, the offense will be solid regardless of who plays. Coach Leonard also said, "We have a lot of talent, but was halted by three coeds crazed."

The team's quarterback, Chris Brinick, has traveled to Texas before, and if he goes to the stadium, it will be an exciting game ever staged in Texas. The team will be trying to avenge a loss for which he was single out. Coach Leonard did, however, single out Chris, during his post-game interview, as the quarterback of the year. He led the Deacons to an exciting game in the opening game of the season.

A news release from Southern Methodist University this week brought this quote from Mustang Coach handjob Fry: "Water Football is fundamentally a sound team. They are well coached. They signed 11 junior college players, including four were All-Americans, and we have seen these players."

Coach Fry said this was the only team that he thought would be a great team. He said they had a young quarterback who didn't quite fit the mold. He was thrown in the pool with his head, and the quarterback didn't quite make it.

"I think we'll have a great team this year," he said. "Our defense has battled one injury after another. Our offense has fielded a quarterback who didn't quite fit the mold. And our coaching staff has been struggling."

"Dame Hollandaise," an unflattering portrait of a 17th century courtesan by the English artist Sir Godfrey Kneller, is among more than 200 paintings actually done by the artist. The portrait is owned by Corot, one of the five paintings owned by Corot that was done after a sketch was drawn, according to a report by Dr. Merrill Berthrong, director of Wake Forest's art collection.

The portrait collection includes paintings of all the past presidents of the university. The portraits hang in the main lobby of the old Wake Forest campus, and the paintings have been damaged and restored two times in the past year, according to a report by Dr. Harold Tribble, which is planned for the 1979-80 academic year.
