

ANNA BUYARSKI ('24)

Major: Psychology, Latin

Minor: Women's, Gender & Sexuality Studies

---

What are your plans for after graduation?

I am still in the process of applying for jobs, but my plan is to work for a few years before heading to grad school.

What is your happiest memory from the department and studying classics?

I have made some of my happiest memories this past semester in Roman Comedy with Dr. Tran. In preparation for performances of Plautus's Mostellaria, Dr. Tran arranged an acting workshop with one of the theatre professors and a mask workshop where we got to practice acting in Roman masks. I think everyone in the class was a little out of their comfort zones during these workshops, but that made it even more entertaining. I will never forget the laughs we shared, and how much fun we had reading and performing in Latin.

What will you miss most?

Definitely the people, both students and faculty. I have met some really cool people through this department, and connecting with them has been one of the best parts of my college career. I have also always struggled with speaking up and participating in class, but never in Latin classes. I will definitely miss the small, laidback, collaborative classroom environment that gave me the comfort and confidence to ask questions and share my thoughts.

MAGGIE QUICK ('24)

Majors: Philosophy, Classical Studies

---

What are your plans for after graduation?

I will be pursuing my Masters in Business Management (MSM) from Wake Forest starting in July. I will also be working as a direct care provider for a girl with special needs.

What is your happiest memory from the department and studying classics?

My happiest memory is probably from Dr. Mars's Homeric Poetry class, where we translated Homer's Odyssey. It was fun to put together the Greek skills I have developed to translate a piece of literature that I love. The class itself was also really fun! Dr. Mars invited us to her home at the end of the year, and having dinner with her family and our class was a sweet memory.

What will you miss most?

I will miss learning from professors who deeply love Classics. Getting to see the passion that professors have for the discipline certainly ignited my own love for it.

TYLER KATZ ('24)

Major: Finance
Minor: Classical Studies

---

What are your plans for after graduation?

Investment banking @ Bank of America (M&A group)

What is your happiest memory from the department and studying classics?

Professor Mars's classes and informal decisions about Greek tragedy

What will you miss most?

I will miss Professor THM's noodle kugel!

