MONDAY, MAY THE EIGHTEENTH
TWO THOUSAND AND NINE
NINE O’CLOCK IN THE MORNING
THOMAS K. HEARN, JR. PLAZA

THE CARILLON: “Dear Old Wake Forest” ..... Richard von Grabow
Lauren Rae Bradley (’05), University Carillonneur

THE PROCESSIONAL ..... The Brass Ensemble

THE WELCOME ..... Nathan O. Hatch
President

THE PRAYER OF INVOCATION ..... The Reverend Timothy L. Auman
University Chaplain

THE HYMN: “Praise the Source of Faith and Learning” ..... AUSTRIA
Led by The Concert Choir

1. Praise the Source of faith and learning who has sparked and stoked the mind with a passion for discerning how the world has been designed.
Let the sense of wonder flowing from the wonders we survey keep our faith forever growing and renew our need to pray:

2. God of wisdom, we acknowledge that our science and our art and the breadth of human knowledge only partial truth impart.
Far beyond our calculation lies a depth we cannot sound where your purpose for creation and the pulse of life are found.

3. May our faith redeem the blunder of believing that our thought has displaced the grounds for wonder which the ancient prophets taught.
May our learning curb the error which unthinking faith can breed and together seek to better
all humankind of every creed.

4. As two currents in a river fight each other’s undertow
'til converging they deliver one coherent steady flow.
Blend, O God, our faith and learning
'til they carve a single course,
'til they join as one, returning praise and thanks to you, their Source.

Words: Thomas H. Troeger, 1987, 1989, adapted 2008

THE HONORING OF RETIRING FACULTY

BOWMAN GRAY CAMPUS

Wake Forest University honors Richard H. Dean, M.D., for twenty-one years of service to the University and its School of Medicine; for holding highly influential roles at the Medical Center, including the Richard T. Myers Professor and Chair of Surgery, Director of the Division of Surgical Sciences, Medical Center Director, and President and CEO of Wake Forest University Health Sciences; for providing visionary leadership and renowned vascular surgery; for enhancing our international academic relationships; for intensifying our focus on research development, and dramatically expanding the Piedmont Triad Research Park; and for leaving an incomparable imprint on our institution and community.

Wake Forest University honors John W. Hammon, Jr., M.D., for seventeen years of service to the University and its School of Medicine as Professor of Surgical Sciences–Cardiothoracic Surgery; for four years as Howard Holt Bradshaw Professor and Chairman of Cardiothoracic Surgery; for being an outstanding physician and superb cardiothoracic surgeon, who achieved national and international stature as an authority on arrhythmias and congenital heart surgery; for his eloquent speaking and accomplished writing; for his frequent invited presentations at professional meetings and important contributions to the clinical literature; for his critical role as a respected researcher and educator; and for earning the sincere appreciation and high regard of students, trainees, and colleagues.

Wake Forest University honors Susan M. Hutson, Ph.D., for twenty years of service to the University and its School of Medicine as a loyal and valued faculty member of the Department of Biochemistry; for her expertise in nutritional biochemistry and investigation of amino acid metabolism and its role in dietary protein consumption and in neurotransmitter synthesis; for her passion for research as reflected in her abundant scientific publications and presentations, underscored by her appointment as Deputy Associate Dean for Research; for her commitment to education and enthusiastic training of medical students, graduate students, and postdoctoral fellows and mentoring of fellow scientists; and for her exceptional contributions that will long be celebrated by the Wake Forest community.

Wake Forest University honors Frederick W. Kremkau, Ph.D., for thirty-three years of service to the University and its School of Medicine, including ten years in the Department of Medicine and twenty-three years as Professor of Medical Ultrasound; for his role as an authority on ultrasonic techniques, research, and education; for directing the Center for Medical Ultrasound and establishing its worldwide reputation for excellence; for his impressive professional publications including the definitive text on the physics of ultrasound; for his work as a conscientious researcher, who investigated the biologic effects and safety of diagnostic ultrasonography; for an enduring career marked by national awards, honors, and offices; and for his immeasurable influence on countless physicians, scientists, students, and patients.

Wake Forest University honors Ronald J. Prineas, M.B.B.S., Ph.D., for ten years of service to the University and its School of Medicine as Professor of Public Health Sciences–Epidemiology and Director of the Epidemiological Cardiology Research (EPICARE) Center; for his international reputation as an outstanding cardiovascular disease epidemiologist; for playing a vital role in critical research trials in his field and reported advances in prevention and intervention in cardiovascular disease in hundreds of professional publications; for developing key methodologies for standardizing electrocardiography data and blood pressure measurements in multi-center studies; and for his excellent reputation for research and administration, which has enhanced the reputation of our institution.

Wake Forest University honors Walter M. Roufail, M.D., for eighteen years of service to the University and its School of Medicine as an esteemed faculty member in the Department of Internal Medicine, Section on Gastroenterology; for his work as a masterful educator repeatedly honored by medical students with the Basic Science Teaching Award and the Clinical Science Teaching Award, and as a recipient of the Award for Teaching Excellence; for his commitment and leadership as a respected clinician who was elected president of the local medical society and the state medical board, and fellow of the American College of Physicians and the American College of Gastroenterology.

THE HONORING OF RETIRING FACULTY

Wake Forest University honors Richard W. St. Clair, Ph.D., for forty-one years of service to the University and its School of Medicine in the Department of Pathology; for his outstanding teaching, research, and administration; for his exemplary leadership in key positions, including Section Head of Comparative Medicine, Director of the Lipid Analytic Laboratory, and Director of the Specialized Center of Research (SCOR) in Arteriosclerosis; for his research on atherosclerosis and valuable contributions to scientific literature; for training students, residents, and fellows and participating in a variety of medical school committees and national professional organizations; and for personifying distinction and achievement in an enduring academic career.

Wake Forest University honors Jack W. Strandhoy, Ph.D., for thirty-five years of service to the University and its School of Medicine in the Department of Physiology and Pharmacology; for his role as an esteemed teacher honored by students with the Excellence in Teaching Award and multiple Basic Science Teaching Awards; for providing innovative education and ongoing leadership in medical curriculum redesign, complemented by superlative teaching skills and excellent rapport with medical and graduate students; for his expertise and research excellence in the field of renal pharmacology that has brought national prestige to the institution; for his talent, longstanding service, and unwavering commitment, deserving our deepest appreciation and highest acclaim.

Wake Forest University honors Reidar Wallin, Ph.D., for twenty years of service to the University and its School of Medicine as a valued faculty member in the Department of Internal Medicine–Rheumatology and Clinical Immunology; for his expertise on Vitamin K metabolism; for his international recognition for his research on bone and arterial calcification, as well as branched-chain amino acid metabolism; for earning institutional appreciation as a research collaborator and resource; for his dedicated, enthusiastic, and well-received teaching; for playing a vital role in the education of undergraduate medical students, graduate students, and postdoctoral fellows; and for enriching us with his unselfish contributions to scientific investigation and education.

REYNOLDA CAMPUS

Wake Forest University honors Robert C. Beck, Ph.D., for fifty years of distinguished and dedicated service in the Department of Psychology in the College of Arts and Sciences; for his significant scientific contributions as a fellow in the Association for the Advancement of Science; for establishing the first psychological laboratories and the Office of Research at Wake Forest University; for helping found the Sigma Xi chapter; for forging connections with the Medical School; for designing instrumental curricula; for challenging students to learn and appreciate science in the classroom and laboratory; for his compassionate, thoughtful leadership; for his commitment to professional ethical standards; and for garnering the enduring respect of colleagues and students.

Wake Forest University honors Stephen Ewing, Ph.D., for thirty-eight years of professionalism and personal devotion to the Calloway School of Business and Accountancy; for teaching students to interpret the data before them, whether pertaining to behaviors of individuals and groups or the operational statistics of an enterprise; for tirelessly delivering advice and counsel with deepest care; for training the eyes of the School toward a global economy and working for the School's success in the return gaze of the world; for demonstrating exceptional flexibility to teach across disciplines according to the needs of the School and its students; and for being a deeply valued colleague and friend.

Wake Forest University honors J. Edwin Hendricks, Ph.D., for his forty-seven years of selfless, dedicated service to students and colleagues in the Department of History in the College of Arts and Sciences; for his service as department chair for four years, president of the Historical Society of North Carolina, and both parliamentarian for the faculty and secretary to the faculty for many years; for his commitment to training generations of students in Public, Preservation, North Carolina, and especially Wake Forest University history; for his teaching, advising and mentoring of undergraduate and graduate students; and for his shaping the minds of numerous scholars in American history.

THE HONORING OF RETIRING FACULTY

Wake Forest University honors Fredric T. Howard, Ph.D., for forty-three years of excellence as an inspired teacher, a gifted scholar, a trusted mentor, and a valued colleague in the Department of Mathematics in the College of Arts and Sciences; for bringing good judgment, unquestionable integrity, and a wonderful sense of humor to every task; for the many hours he spent with students; for listening, encouraging, guiding, and challenging them; for his significant contributions to the master's degree program in mathematics; and for playing a fundamental role in taking both the students and the program to greater heights.

Wake Forest University honors Donald P. Robin, D.B.A., for twelve years of service to the University and its students; for championing an ethical approach to business that we gladly claim as a distinguishing feature of our graduates; for contributing to the intellectual life of our students and faculty and the discipline of business ethics; for demanding the best from his students and from himself; for carrying the banner of the University while lecturing across the globe and for putting his best observations about international business education into practice; and for being a deeply valued colleague in the Calloway School of Business and Accountancy.

Wake Forest University honors David F. Shores, J.D., for his thirty-seven years of exemplary service to the University and the School of Law; for his extraordinary gifts as a teacher-scholar; for his devotion to his students; for his prolific scholarly contributions that have enriched the legal academy; for his professional contribution to the practicing bar and public; for his commitment to continuing legal education; for his service to the local community; for his invaluable leadership and sound judgment; for his warm smile and good humor; and for his service and dedication to humanity.

Wake Forest University honors Peter D. Weigl, Ph.D., for forty-one years of valued service to the Department of Biology in the College of Arts and Sciences; for his distinction as an outstanding professor, evident in the continuous stream of students who sought his guidance; for his astonishing array of prestigious awards for teaching, service and research mentoring; for his devotion to the practice of ecology, and in the training of his students, that has led him to perform work on a remarkable five continents; and most importantly, for his honesty and compassion that leave a lasting legacy with his students and colleagues.

THE WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY MACE

The Wake Forest University mace, a handsome staff decorated with scenes and symbols of the University, was first used at the inauguration of President James Ralph Scales in April 1968. It is a traditional symbol of authority and is carried at the head of the academic processions at Commencement and convocations. The mace is shaped from a single sheet of silver covered with gold. It has an ebony handle. Etchings of Wait Chapel, Reynolda Hall, an arch at an entrance to the campus, and the cupola on the Z. Smith Reynolds Library are on the largest, or middle, section. Pictures of the Old Campus are on the top section. On the bottom are panoramas of the medical school, Carswell Hall, and the skyline of Winston-Salem. Each section is separated by raised drawings of magnolias. A double-cast seal of the University is at the top of the mace. The mace was given by Tom Davis of Winston-Salem in honor of his father, Egbert Lawrence Davis (LLB 1904).

THE PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN OF OFFICE

The Presidential Chain of Office is part of the academic regalia worn by the President at Commencement and convocations. It is a goldplated necklace of medallions linked by onyx-centered magnolia blossoms. On each medallion is the name of a former Wake Forest president and the years of his tenure. The Chain of Office was a gift to the University in 1991 from Weston P. Hatfield ('41), a life trustee and former chair of the Board of Trustees.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia apparently originated at Oxford and Cambridge more than 600 years ago. The apparel is little changed in design, colors, and symbolism. In no other sector are the ancient usages of the university so unchanging. In 1895 an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of academic caps, gowns, and hoods in the United States. Over the years there have been only minor revisions to the code, which is followed by 95 percent of the colleges and universities in America, including Wake Forest.

Gowns, which according to the tradition, are all black (Harvard, Princeton, and Yale are exceptions), are of three kinds. The bachelor's gown is a comparatively simple kind that falls in straight lines from an elaborate yoke. The master's gown is similar to the bachelor's except for its peculiar arrangement of the long sleeves with square ends that hang below the elbow. The doctor's gown is an elaborate, full-cut, flowing costume distinguished by velvet panels down the front and around the neck and by three bars of velvet on the bell-shaped sleeves.

The academic hood was literally a garment to protect the wearer from foul weather. It is the identifying symbol of the degree. The length indicates which degree it represents: three feet for the bachelor's, three and a half for the master's, and four for the doctoral. The lining indicates the college or university which awarded the degree. Those who receive degrees from Wake Forest wear hoods lined in old gold and black. The color of the trimming identifies the major field of learning: white for arts and letters, copper for journalism, purple for law, green for medicine, drab for business, pink for music, silver-gray for speech, dark blue for philosophy, light blue for education, sage green for physical education, golden yellow for science, cream for social science, and scarlet for theology.

The Wake Forest University trustees wear black robes with old gold and black on the front panels and the bars on the sleeves. The shield from the University seal is embroidered on the front panels.

Some universities have duplicated colors, but generally a glance at the lining, which is worn exposed, will identify the awarding institution. Some of the university colors worn today are:
