

*Keynote Speaker: Fahim Gulamali,
Class of 2014*

Fahim Gulamali is the Assistant Director of Programming and Student Engagement at the Pro Humanitate Institute (PHI), where he supports civic engagement programming and PHI initiatives. He received his B.A. from Wake Forest University, where he studied Religion, Anthropology, and Spanish. After graduating, Fahim was the Program Coordinator for the Public Leadership Education Network (PLEN), a national organization that prepares college women for leadership in the public policy arena through seminars in Washington, DC. Finally, Fahim has an undying love for Beyoncé.

Honoring Dr. Lynn Sutton

Lynn Sutton, PhD, serves as Vice Provost of Wake Forest University, where she oversees much of the academic and strategic initiatives of the University while working closely with the Reynolda House Museum of American Art, WFDD, WFU Art Collections, the Humanities Institute, the Teaching and Learning Center, the Professional Development Center, online education, START Gallery, the Women's Center, LGBTQ Center, University Press, Title IX, and the Secrest Artists Series. She is the former Dean of Z. Smith Reynolds Library.

Lynn's commitment to the LGBTQ community at Wake Forest has included her service on the President's Commission on LGBTQ Affairs, the Committee for Dialogue on Chick-Fil-A, the Campus Climate Implementation Team, and her enthusiastic sponsorship of the WFU Pride Parade float.

The LGBTQ Center thanks our many campus partners for support of Lavender Graduation, and we sincerely appreciate sponsorship of the ceremony from the offices and departments listed on the front of this program.
